    - (Sponsored by Joe Alfred)
| Wednesday
September 4
10am–noon
CLL | Board of Directors Meeting | Board meetings are open to all ElderStudy members. Come and witness firsthand the decision-making process that ensures that ElderStudy is meeting its objectives. This is a chance for all members to suggest new ideas for the organization directly to the Board and to committee chairpersons. (Sponsored by President Chuck Block) |
| Wednesday
September 4
1pm–3pm
CLL | A History of Williamsburg — City and Institution | "The restoration will be inspirational" - Kelly Brennan Arehart, PhD, historian at the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, will share the history of Virginia’s 18th-century capital and its transformation into the biggest living history museum in the world. The area now known as Williamsburg had little to recommend it when the government moved the capital there in 1699. Sparsely populated and prone to Indian attacks, there was no indication in those early years that it would become the political training ground for George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and James Madison. When the capital moved to Richmond in 1780, the glamor and prestige went with it; turning Williamsburg into a sleepy southern town. The shades of Williamsburg's great past went undetectable and unnoticed until the Reverend of the Bruton Parish Church convinced John D. Rockefeller Jr. that the glory of the past could be recaptured by restoring the town to its 18th-century roots. Intrigued, Rockefeller joined the Reverend for a stroll down the Duke of Gloucester Street. The rest is history. (Sponsored by Mike Redding) |
| Thursday
September 5
10am–noon
1201 Washington Avenue
TOUR RSVP | TOUR - Walking the Architectural Delights of Washington Avenue | Walk along one of Fredericksburg's most treasured streets with our favorite tour guide, Scott Walker of Hallowed round Tours. Discover stories of the history and architecture of that nationally and state-recognized historic district. RSVP REQUIRED to Mary Ann Stana, mastana10@hotmail (preferred) or 604–5634. Limited to 35 members. Meet at the stone monument in the median in front of Kenmore 1201 Washington Avenue. (Sponsored by Mary Ann Stana) |
| Tuesday
September 10
10am–11am
CLL | Creatures of the Sea - Marine Biology | While the great whales represent the largest and perhaps most familiar of the oceans' inhabitants, there are countless other creatures, great and small, that lurk in the sea and in the skies overhead. In this talk, Jon Malay will discuss some of the most interesting of them, including the complex relationships between the forces of nature and their survival. (Sponsored by Randy Fennemore) |
| Tuesday
September 10
11am–noon
CLL | Exploring the Blackness – The History of Deep Submergence | In 2012, the famous Canadian film-maker James Cameron piloted the Deepsea Challenger to the bottom of the Challenger Deep, the deepest-known place on earth. Cameron was following the intrepid explorers who took famous submersibles such as Trieste and Alvin into seas so deep no light can penetrate. In this lecture, Jon Malay will review the highlights of these voyages and show some of the physical bottom features and strange creatures they found. (Sponsored by Randy Fennemore) |
| Tuesday
| September 10
| 1pm–3pm
| Chatham Manor
| TOUR RSVP | TOUR - Chatham in the 20th Century
|
| Hilary Grabowska | Hilary Grabowska, a historian with the Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania National Military Park, will lead us on a tour of Chatham Manor. Chatham has been looking down on Fredericksburg from Stafford Heights since 1771. Most visitors to Chatham focus on its early history through the Civil War. However, the house remained a private home until John Lee Pratt bequeathed the estate to the National Park Service upon his death in 1975. This tour will focus on the personalities and events of the 20th Century, which, to a great degree, defined the house and grounds we see today. Much of the tour will be outside, walking over some uneven ground and standing for most of the tour. The tour is limited to 100 members and guests. RSVP Mike Redding by email (preferred) at mgredding@verizon.net or by phone at 540-899-3688. (Sponsored by Mike Redding) |

| Thursday
| September 12
| 10am–noon
| CLL | Immigration and Exclusion: The Chinese American Experience
|
| Krystyn Moon | Dr. Kristyn Moon, UMW associate professor and program director of American Studies, will discuss the passage of the Chinese Exclusion Act in 1882 that set the precedent in American immigration policy to bar certain populations deemed inferior from entering the country. Dr. Moon will explore how this law originated with the anti-Chinese movement in California and lead to race-based immigration laws by the latter 19th century. Many immigrants did not accept these laws and often turned to the courts to fight what they saw as racist policies that flew in the face of the 14th and 15th Amendments. Nevertheless, the Chinese Exclusion Act was the precursor of exclusionary policies, the implications of which we still grapple with today. (Sponsored by Dennis Van Derlaske) |

| September 12
| 1pm–3pm
| CLL | Book Group — Radium Girls by Kate Moore
|
| Kay McKinney | This timely book celebrates the strength of a group of women whose determination to fight improved both labor laws and scientific knowledge of radium poisoning. English author Moore, who directed a play about the girls, writes in a highly readable, narrative style. Her chronicle of these inspirational women’s lives is sure to provoke discussion and outrage in book groups. (Sponsored by Dot Meyers) |

| Tuesday
| September 17
| 10am–noon
| CLL | A Story of Ascenders - From Slavery to Today
|
| Charlie Russell | ElderStudy member Charlie Russell has been researching his ancestry for 40 years and has been able to trace his roots back to his 2nd great grandfather who was a slave in 1853 on the David N. Russell farm outside Elkton, Kentucky. It was from this farm that his family took their name. The oral history of his family goes further back. Charlie’s focus now is to document that history. (Sponsored by Carolyn Sulima) |

| Tuesday
| September 17
| 1pm–3pm
| CLL | Journalism Ethics: Fact, Fiction or Oxymoron?
|
| Rich Martin | Journalist Rich Martin is back to talk to us about ethics in Journalism. One of journalism’s roles is to sort truth from lies, clarify distortions and dispel rumors. But what happens when journalism itself is described as “fake” and professional journalists are called the “enemy of the people?” What are the ethical standards that journalists work under? Are those standards sufficient at a time when distrust of the news media is widespread? In this class we will talk about the ethical challenges that journalists have always faced, and we will consider some case studies in which you will have an opportunity to make decisions about what goes into news stories – and what does not. (Sponsored by Carolyn Sulima) |
| Wednesday
September 18
10am–noon
Klein Theatre | Play Discussion — The Complete Works of Shakespeare, abridged, revised by Adam Long, Daniel Singer and Jess Winfield
Helen Housley | A company of actors storm the stage and take on The Bard of Avon - 37 plays and 154 sonnets - in a 97-minute madcap romp through the entire canon (but not the one you studied in English class). Fasten your seatbelts and hang on for dear life as you take one of the wildest and goofiest rides in the theatre. The Bard may be rolling in his grave, but you’ll be rolling in the aisles for The Complete Works of Shakespeare, abridged, revised. “If you like Shakespeare, you’ll like this show. If you hate Shakespeare, you’ll love this show!” — The Today Show. “Wildly funny. Masterful!” — The Los Angeles Times. Tickets will be available during and after class. Play Dates: 19 - 29 September; Box Office 540-654-1124. For the hearing impaired, listening devices are available for checkout at the Box Office prior to each performance. The parking lot across from Klein should be reserved for ElderStudy. ElderStudy members may bring non-member guests to this session. (Sponsored by Bob and Carole Hanus) |
| Wednesday
September 18
1:30pm–3pm
Ridderhof Martin Gallery | Fall UMW Gallery Tour I
Carole Garmon | The two tours will begin at the Ridderhof Martin Gallery and proceed to duPont Hall. ES receives a personal tour of each current exhibits by the director or curator of the UMW galleries. You may choose to dine in the Maple Room on the fourth floor of the University Center (site of the former Chandler Hall) at a reduced rate before the tour. NOTE UNUSUAL START TIME. (Sponsored by Mary Ann Stana) |
| Thursday
September 19
10am–noon
CLL | Trip to a Land Down Under, Part 1
Mike Redding | ElderStudy member Mike Redding will present a slide show of the first half of his trip to Australia in 2016. His trip ranged from the breathtaking scenery of Tasmania, to Uluru in the Outback, to the lush rain forests of the northeast coast and the Great Barrier Reef. Also included in the trip were two of the great cities of the world, Melbourne and Sydney. Mike will present Part 2 in spring 2020. (Sponsored by Mike Redding) |
| Thursday
September 19
1pm–3pm
CLL | Curriculum Committee Meeting II | The Curriculum Committee is responsible for planning the 45 plus programs that are scheduled each semester. We are always looking for that next new topic on our journey to lifelong learning. Come join us and help develop programs that are interesting and stimulating. (Sponsored by Joe Alfred) |
| Tuesday
September 24
10am–noon
CLL | Infectious Diseases - How Safe Are We
Lauren Fiske | Dr. Lauren Fiske, an infectious disease specialist at Mary Washington Hospital and Stafford Hospital, will enlighten us on the impact of infectious diseases from an historical, present day and future perspectives. She will focus on current and future threats looking at infectious diseases that we are now facing and will be facing and just how serious some of these threats are. (Sponsored by Chuck Johnson) |
| Wednesday
September 25
10am–noon
CLL | Cultural Landscape of the Rappahannock
Sue Henderson | Sue Henderson, a Fredericksburg Arts Commissioner and a management team member of the Washington's Backyard Artisan Trail, will provide an exploration of the cultural landscape of the region. Sue will include where to find information on recurring events and activities, key geographic assets and locations and annual events in the W Planning district including King George, Caroline, Spotsylvania, Stafford and Fredericksburg. (Sponsored by Carol Wachter) |
| Thursday
September 26
10am–noon
CLL | Volunteering Abroad and at Home
John Leahy | John Leahy, a retired Peace Corps volunteer talks about his experience in West Africa in the 1980’s and his plans to volunteer again in retirement, this time with his wife. In between, they have begun a community volunteer project in Fredericksburg in honor of their daughter who was a passionate volunteer and activist before her death from cancer in 2016. (Sponsored by Donna Lewis) |
|---|---|---|
| Thursday
September 26
1pm–3pm
CLL | Chair Yoga for All
Kay Hawkins | Kay Hawkins, yoga teacher for 20 years, therapist and certified in the Viniyoga Tradition, asks you to check it out for yourself. The time-tested practice of yoga offers you the knowledge and skills to take charge of your aging process. This is not kid stuff yoga, but an age appropriate yoga practice can help dissolve aches and pains, free up your energy, maintain strength and help develop overall resilience. We begin seated in a chair; we next work with standing postures with the chair there for added stability; we return to the chair for more postures. We finish with eye exercises and a short mind-clearing experience. (Sponsored by Donna Lewis) |
| October
Tuesday
October 1
10am–12:30pm
CLL | The Films and Life of Frank Capra
Gary Olsen | As the top film director in Hollywood’s “Golden Age,” Capra’s feel-good movies during the Depression and World War II showcased the courageous American individual triumphing over the collective evil. We will examine his films, including “It’s A Wonderful Life,” “Mr. Smith Goes To Washington,” and “It Happened One Night,” movies that have shaped the films of Steven Spielberg, David Lynch, Ron Howard, among a number of today’s movie directors. (Sponsored by Alan Zirkle) |
| Wednesday
October 2
10am–noon
CLL | Education Then and Now - Greeks, Romans and Modernity
Joe Romero | Joe Romero, UMW professor of classics, philosophy and religion will discuss the education system in ancient reece and Rome and compare and contrast the educational system of classical antiquity with the current direction of higher education. (Sponsored by Phil Hall) |
| Thursday
October 3
1pm–3pm
CLL | Exploring the Chesapeake Bay by Sailboat
Barbara Ehman | A discussion about planning and provisioning for a sail on the Chesapeake Bay. A description of historical sites and towns to explore. Dr. Ehman has been sailing for 26 years; she owns a 40-foot sailboat. (Sponsored by Margaretta Williamson) |
| Tuesday
October 8
10am–noon
CLL | A Christmas Tale of Corals and Climate
Pamela Grothe | Dr. Pamela Grothe, UMW assistant professor, Earth and Environmental Sciences, will discuss how corals are excellent archives for recording past climate change. The chemistry in their skeleton reflects the temperature and salinity of the ocean at the time the coral was living. In her research, she uses several thousand-year-old corals from a remote island in the central tropical Pacific, Christmas Island, to reconstruct changes in past climates. Knowing how the climate varied in the past allows us to better understand natural versus human-induced climate change. Dr. Grothe’s talk will present what the corals have to “say” about changes in the climate, specifically looking at cycles of El Nino and La Nina events, the largest cause for variations in extreme global weather patterns and what that means for future climate change. <td>Book Group — The Library Book by Susan Orlean</td>
<td>This book re-opens the unsolved mystery of the most catastrophic library fire in American history and delivers a dazzling homage to the beloved institution - our libraries. On the morning of April 29, 1986, a fire alarm sounded in the Los Angeles Public Library. Raging through the stacks, the fire reached 2000 degrees and burned for more than seven hours. The mystery remains: did someone purposely set fire to the library - and if so, who?  (Sponsored by Dot Meyers)</td>

Dr. Gagnon, an ElderStudy member and retired Indian Studies professor, will offer a perspective on the French and Indian War that describes the American Indians’ decisive role in the continuing history of North America. While history portrays the war as part of the historical conflict between France and Great Britain, Native American involvement in the conflict was pivotal not only in the outcome of the war, but in understanding the history of North America. Dr. Gagnon will demonstrate why this conflict was one of the watershed episodes for many Indian nations, the French, the English, the Spanish, the Canadians, and the Americans. (Sponsored by Chuck Johnson)

Film musicals and their accompanying dancing would not be in existence without the influence of this film director/choreographer. Berkeley created elaborate dance numbers to accompany the musical numbers in his movie productions to show breathless kaleidoscopic performances not seen before on the screen. His craftsmanship shown in films such as “42nd Street” and “Golddiggers” have influenced today’s choreographers on the stage and movie musicals.

The journey to adulthood is a road of peaks and valleys. All of us share the experience of what it means to grow up in an uncertain world, to search and stumble along the way, and to forge our way to a meaningful future. In a refreshingly honest, gorgeously conceived, and exceptionally innovative musical based on Alison Bechdel's heartbreaking graphic novel, Fun Home reminds us of the life-affirming joy that comes from facing our fears to become the person we were meant to be. “... an exquisite understanding of the hope you get from children, whom you know will get to make their own lives, have their own fun, away from you.” – The Chicago Tribune. “..."a beautiful, heartbreaker of a musical." – The New York Times. Tickets will be available during and after class. Play Dates: 7 - 24 November; Box Office 540–654–1124. For the hearing impaired, listening devices are available for checkout at the Box Office prior to each performance. The parking lot across from Klein should be reserved for ElderStudy. ElderStudy members may bring non-member guests to this session.

<td>Veteran tour guide Scott Walker will discuss the Falls of the Rappahannock River. These falls are not like the ones on the Niagara, but our local falls are the reason our early communities came here. These falls created a location that, throughout our history, funneled visitors to and through our area. Scott Walker will look at the wide variety and backgrounds of a few of these more prominent visitors who can be associated with major places and events in American History that everyone is familiar with. This does not necessarily make Fredericksburg the 'first, best, most, biggest' of some things but the community has involvements and connections with many historic events and movements. SAWS builds wheelchair ramps for those who cannot afford one on their own. The need for ramps is great and continues to grow as Baby Boomers age and medical advances prolong life. According to the 2010 US Census, 3.3 million people 15 and older use a wheelchair. There are thousands of people with disabilities in the Fredericksburg, Stafford and Spotsylvania counties, many of whom are trapped in their homes for lack of a wheelchair ramp or the resources to acquire one.
